Dear Gargoyles from the Class of 1988,

On this frigid homecoming day in Williamstown, I write to you as a fellow member of the Gargoyle Society because Gargoyle needs your help.

As you know, the Society has long been known as a positive agent of change at Williams—from the abolition of fraternities, the establishment of the College Council, to the creation of the JA system. More recently, we conducted a comprehensive reassessment of the Williams honor code, reviewed the role of alcohol on campus culture, and championed an increased focus on students' mental health. In addition, Gargoyle made a key donation that helped ensure the completion of the new Sawyer library and reconstruction of the historic Preston room.

In the wake of decreased direct financial support from the College, however, that important donation has had a larger-than-expected impact on the Society's limited endowment. As a result, Gargoyle's efficacy has been limited. That is why we have come to you, notable alums of the Society, to ask for your help.

So, please make a donation to the Gargoyle Society—in any amount. You played an important role in the Society's lauded past, and we need you now to help ensure its future.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Tobias David Muellers,
Lord Head Chancellor of the 123rd Delegation of the Gargoyle Society
